Course Description:	This course offers an intensive experience at an academic family site practicing broad scope family medicine. During this rotation students will be placed in a variety of clinical environments to best obtain a diversified experience which may include hospital care of the newborn, obstetrics, and care of the acutely hospitalized patient to primary care for pediatrics, women’s health, adults, and geriatric patients. Visiting students will plan to participate in residency activities (e.g. QI projects and Journal Club) and perform primary care procedures (e.g. joint injections and pap smears). Students will spend approximately half of their time inpatient at Greenville Memorial Hospital on FMTS with 1 weekend day shift, and half of their time outpatient at a Center for Family Medicine (CFM) Residency Clinic. The weekend shift will be determined by the academic site to give additional experience for extended continuity, conducting admissions, or responding to critical events. The call shift will need to follow duty hours as outlined within the USCSOMG policies (https://www.sc.edu/study/colleges_schools/medicine_greenville/internal/policies/index.php).
